THE REGALE LILY

(L. Myriophyllum)

This beautiful new lily comes from North-western China, which is a guarantee of its hardiness. The exquisite blending of tints and colors, forming a charming contrast with the rich green foliage, makes it the most beautiful of all known lilies.

Highly recommended for general culture.

The trumpet-shaped fragrant flowers are pure transparent white, with a distinct rich canary-yellow throat and orange stamens. The buds and outside of petals are delicate pink, which is often reflected through the petals.

Plants grow from three to four feet tall. In the garden it should bloom early in July, continuing its glorious display well into August. Mature bulbs will produce five to ten flowers, and are fine for house decoration, lasting for days after being cut.

BULB CULTURE

Bulbs can be planted in the Fall or Spring. (If planted in the Fall, it is well to mulch a little for the first winter, but do not use fresh barnyard manure for mulching.) It will do well in any good, rich garden land, either partly shady or all sun.

This lily will not thrive in a location where water occasionally stands or in a tight mucky soil.

QUALITY PEONIES

THE Peony is truly the queen of all perennials, rivaling the rose in form, color and fragrance. They thrive admirably in any soil and may be grown in shady parts of the lawn where other flowering plants refuse to bloom.

They deserve their increasing popularity because of their beauty, range of color and form; their extreme hardiness, ease of culture and freedom from plant pests and diseases.

No matter how unsuccessful you have been with other flowers, you can grow fine peonies to perfection.

There are hundreds of named varieties and the list is still growing. It is useless to try to grow them all, and we believe our patrons will appreciate our efforts in selecting just a few varieties that are generally conceded to be the very best, and at prices that are within the reach of all.

The proper time in which to plant peonies is from the middle of September until the ground freezes.
